Work Completed

This week we looked for different project ideas. We shortlisted two projects: game learning app and blurguard. Workflow was studied, how they will work, and what all functionalities and unique things we can do with these projects .

Then we prepared a pitch for both projects and showed them to our project coordinator and finalized the blurguard due to its impact and uniqueness.

Blurguard was selected because it was solving a real world problem and had a lot of scope in improvement in real time solutions.

Outcome

The initial stage of the selection of the project and its analysis was successfully completed.

Next Planned Work

To Work on deeper functionalities of blurguard, working of system, requirement analysis and making plan and ganttchart for workflow of our project.
